British Score Reds on Arrest

London, May 5—(Special)—

Soviet Ambassador Alexander Soldatov was rebuked by the Foreign Office today for Russia's failure to detail charges against a jailed British teacher arrested in Moscow 10 days ago.

The teacher, George rooke, 26 was leading a student tour through the Soviet Union when he was picked up in a Soviet citizen's apartment on suspicion of subversive activities. He has been held incommunicado since.

George Thomson, joint minister of state, told Soldatov precisely what the British government thought of the Kremlin action during a half hour harangue, Whitehall sources said.

Thomson was said to have emphasized Britain's deep concern because the British consul in Moscow was not permitted to visit Brooke. —Menry Maule.
